A SECOND JOHNSTOWN.

The Great Lewiston Reservoir Gives Way,

And Seventeen Thousand Acres of Water Are Sent Roaring and Tumbling Down the Miami Valley

Sweeping Everything Before It and Leaving Death and Destruction in Its Wake.

LIMA, Ohio, May 3.—Word reached here this morning that the Lewiston reservoir, containing 17,000 acres of water and located at the head of the Miami river, broke at the flood gates at 4 a. m., and was rushing towards Sidney, Troy, Piqua, Dayton, Hamilton and intermediate points in a mighty volume. The break was reported to be spreading and a second Johnstown calamity was feared. The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad company, whose tracks parallel the river, has been notified and they fear that the water, which is already up to the tracks, will cause great damage, if not loss of life. It was reported that fifteen or twenty lives were lost at the head of the river. Great alarm exists here.

LIMA, Ohio, May 3—1 P. M.—Later advices from the Lewiston reservoir are that the break has reached twenty feet in width and is spreading rapidly. The reservoir was full, and what water has passed out has had no effect in diminishing the supply in the least, and the result of a complete giving away is horrible to contemplate. The towns of Lewiston and Newport, several miles down the river, are reported submerged and several lives lost. A courier has left Belle Center for the scene, and it will be impossible to learn anything about the magnitude of the damage done at the reservoir and near by towns until he returns. It is feared there has been a large loss of life and great damage to property.

QUIT WORK.

Carnegie Makes a Cut in Wages in His Mills.

Improved Machinery Makes It Possible to Double the Output With Fewer Men, Hence the Trouble.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The recent reduction of the wages of some 200 men who struck—or as both they and the firm prefer to call it, quit work—at the Carnegie Homestead steel works, has caused considerable excitement among the employes and, it is said, some inconvenience to the employers. The men who were employed in the places of the strikers are unskilled and the results are unsatisfactory. It is also stated that the example set by the strikers will shortly be imitated by a number of others. The incident was the outgrowth of the adoption of improved machinery. The strike occurred among the heaters, crane-men, tong-men and others employed in the thirty-three-inch mill, where the recent improvements practically double the output, with fewer men. The readjustment of wages and number of men proved unsatisfactory to the latter, who did not share in the benefit of the increased output. The extensive improvements in the Carnegie plants is causing much uneasiness among mill workers in general. They fear that it may become impossible for their employers to compete with the Carnegies without cutting wages very close. This feature will very likely prove the stumbling block when the time arrives for the arranging of the Amalgamated association scale.

MRS. STEVENSON,

The Wife of the Vice President, is Ill.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Vice President Stevenson and his family left for their home in Bloomington yesterday afternoon on account of the sudden and severe illness of Mrs. Stevenson. She was taken sick Monday and was unable to attend the dedication of the woman's building at the Columbian exposition, in which she was to have taken a prominent part. She expected to recover so as to attend to the engagements she had made for the balance of the week, but yesterday she was somewhat worse, and Dr. Evans, resident physician at the Palmer house, advised her to return home, where she could obtain greater care and complete rest. The vice president cancelled his social and business engagements in Chicago in order to accompany and care for his wife.

ASSAULTED NON-UNION MEN.

Outrages Committed by the Santa Fe Strikers in Kansas.

ARGENTINE, Kas., May 3.—When the Santa Fe strike was declared off the strikers congregated, paraded the streets, howled themselves hoarse and wound up by assaulting and driving from the shops the few non-union men who had taken their places. Thirteen non-union men were roughly used and three of them seriously injured. Suit has been brought against the strikers for $10,000 for each of the three non-union men seriously hurt, and suits will be brought for other non-union men injured. The statue under which the suits will be brought is an old one and the suits will be the first of the kind ever filed in the state.

RAN ASHORE.

Lake Steamer Sitka Brings Up on a Reef.

PORT HURON, Mich., May 3.—The steamer Sitka, bound down loaded with 85,000 bushels of corn, went ashore early yesterday morning on the reef at Kettle Point, twenty miles above Fort Gratiot light, on the Canadian side. When she struck she knocked her fore foot off and is leaking badly. She is out about two feet aft, having bounded over the reef. The tug Wales, with lighter and wrecking outfit, has gone to her assistance. The Sitka is owned by Capt. Thomas Wilson, of Cleveland.

WHISKY SAVED HIM.

Charles Case Makes a Desperate Attempt at Suicide.

He Swallows Large Quantities of Acetic Acid—He Fought Dr. Enslen Like a Fiend.

Charles Case, a young man residing at No. 36 Colerick street, made a desperate attempt to take his life by the poison method last night about 10 o'clock.

At the hour stated Case came home in a drunken condition and, starting upstairs, somewhat surprised the family by forbidding them to come up for ten minutes. None of the family had any intention of following him and this language frightened them. After he had been gone a few moments they went up stairs to investigate and found that Charles had just swallowed a large portion of acetic acid, one of the deadliest drugs known. He was still under the influence of liquor and evidently determined to end his existence.

Dr. Enslen was sent for in great haste and upon arriving at the residence found young Case lying upon the bed suffering terrible pains in the stomach. The doctor immediately gave him a strong emetic which had the desired effect of releiving him of the poison but which at the same time threw him into a fit of temporary insanity. Case made for the doctor like an enraged animal and the physician had a hard struggle with him before he succeeded in downing the madman on the floor, where he was held while more medicine was forced between his clinched teeth. The doctor remained an hour until all danger was over.

The would be suicide is about twenty-five years of age. He is a railroad man and lost his left arm some time ago. He has just returned from the west. His father works in the shops. The cause of the suicidal mania is supposed to be drink. Dr. Enslen had a narrow escape as Case is a powerful man and might have severely injured the doctor. Had the desperate man been sober the poison would have caused his death, but in this instance whisky saved him.

BEATS THE CITY.

Henry Durnell Recovers Damages for Personal Injuries.

Cases on Trial and Disposed of in the Various Courts of the City.

The jury in the case of Henry Durnell against the city, brought to recover $5,000 damages for injuries inflicted on account of a defective sidewalk, brought in a verdict this morning of $1,255 for the plaintiff. The case has been on trial in the circuit court for two days.

The time of Judge Dawson and a jury, in the superior court, is still engaged in the damage suit of George Herman against the Wabash Railroad company. The evidence will probably be finished this afternoon and the arguments made tomorrow.

The case of Samuel Grubb vs the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville railroad was settled out of court and has been dismissed.

Jesse France, the young man who accidentally shot and killed Henry Mathens, was arraigned yesterday afternoon before the court for a preliminary hearing on the charge of manslaughter. James Robinson, attorney for the prisoner, waived an examination at the preliminary hearing and France was bound over in the sum of $1,000 to await an investigation before the grand jury.

Judge O'Rourke and a jury are engaged this afternoon in hearing testimony in the insanity case of John Fregel, who resides out on the Leo road.

W. G. Colerick, as attorney for the plaintiff, files a petition in the circuit court asking that Margaret Little may be divorced from Oliver Little.

In Justice Wilkinson's court yesterday two affidavits were filed against Anna Lehrman for provoking Rose Zintemeister, April 7 and April 28. Zintemeister, on the other hand, filed an affidavit against Christian Lehrman for malicious trespass. Mrs. Lehrman was tried last night, and fined. The case against Christian Lehrman was heard this morning, and he was fined $16.50, costs and all.

Justice Wilkinson sent six tramps to jail this morning. They were arrested by Sheriff Clausmeier in the east yards on complaint filed against them by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Sheriff Clausmeier has received a telegram from Lima to be on the lookout for two boys who ran away from that place.

Justice France fined Susan Artis $1 and costs for provoking Laslo Mohl, and the latter was fined for provoking Susan.

John Miller and Lidia Lochner, Charles W. Pott and Maria Kellogg have been licensed to wed.

This morning at his office, Justice France united in marriage Charles W. Pott and Miss Maria Kellogg.

A sale of twenty-five horses belonging to J. E. Bellen took place this morning. Most of them were Wayne Wilkes stock. One was sold to Mr. Shaaff of this city for $225 ... Wolrock bought a fast one.

OHIO'S RIVERS

Are on a Rampage But the Highest Point Has Been Reached.

Great Damage Has Been Done in Various Points in the State by the High Waters.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—The Ohio river reached the maximum yesterday at noon, when it came to a stand at fifty feet and eight inches. It then began to fall an inch an hour and has since receded, so the alarm is over.

The rivers and streams throughout Ohio are still raging and doing immense damage. The Miami valley is almost entirely submerged and hundreds of acres of wheat are drowned out. In Miamisburg the lower portion is submerged, nearly all of the residents being compelled to desert their homes.

Reports from Springfield state that hundreds of men are guarding the Lewiston reservoir, the second largest artificial body of water in the world, which threatens to give way, the water being higher than ever known before. The loss will be stupendous if the break does occur. All the railroads running into Springfield have had washouts.

The Scioto river and Point Creek are on the rampage at Chillicothe and their waters are running over the banks, creating havoc and destruction to crops and property. Chillicothe has not had such a flood for years and the prospects for a speedy abatement are anything but flattering.

At Columbus the Scioto reached its highest point yesterday morning and is now slowly falling. At Dayton numerous streets are impassable. The electric cars and horse cars cannot run in the lower parts of the city. The damage done is estimated at $500,000. Foundries, store rooms, tobacco factories, twine factories, and manufacturing establishments were flooded and are ruined.

At Tiffin the recent rains have caused the waters of the Sandusky river to rise to a point they have not reached in ten years and considerable damage has been caused in that city. The Mechanicsburg addition to this city is inundated, at least 100 houses being surrounded, and some of them are filled with water to the lower windows. More than twenty families have abandoned their homes and others are now being helped out in boats. The water has been rising at the rate of three inches an hour all day but seemed to be at a stand still at 8 o'clock last evening.

THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 3.—At 9 o'clock this morning the guage on the Mississippi river here registered forty one feet, ten inches, within two inches of the danger line. This is a rise of four inches in the past twelve hours. Business on the wharf is practically suspended. The steamboats are unable to make their regular landings on account of the high water. Consequently they are obliged to run with light cargoes. Reports from above here show that the river was falling last night at Keokuk and Quincy, and that the Mississippi was falling at Herman. The Osage and Gasconade rivers have spent their force and are receding rapidly. It is believed that the river will reach its crest here tomorrow and will then fall rapidly. The local river shippers and steamboat men are much discouraged with the outlook. The indications are that the flood will prove disastrous to the crops in all low lands along the river, which will insure hard times and dull business for a year.

GOLD SITUATION.

Secretary Carlisle Feels Easy and Confident.

The Reserve Ample for Ordinary Purposes and Bankers are Ready to Aid in Case of Emergency.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Secretary Carlisle was busy this morning answering his mail, which had accumulated during his absence. He looked well, despite the fatigue of the long journey from Chicago, and expressed himself as well satisfied with the financial situation. He said his informal conference with the bankers of New York and Chicago were very pleasant. He declined to say if he had effected any arrangement with them to build up the gold reserve, or to protect it in case it became depleted by continued export. The gold reserve, according to the figures on the treasury books is today $97,025,000. This includes as far as can be accurately ascertained, all the gold offered and accepted within the past ten days, except about three quarters of a million dollars, thus leaving the reserve invaded about $2,000,000. This has been occasioned by the withdrawal of gold from the New York and Boston sub treasuries, for shipment to Canada and by the further fact that $1,000,000 promised from the west was at the last moment withdrawn. Some small offers of gold were made today and accepted, and unless the export for Saturday is large it is probable that the treasury may make up the present deficiency and the gold reserve again become intact. The total gold in the country as estimated by the treasury official circulation statement, aggregates $613,000,000 of which $518,000,000 is in circulation.

There will be a meeting of the Y. W. C. T. U. Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at Mrs. Carrie Smith's, 4th floor of the Foley & Long block. All members are requested to be on hand.

LEARNED DOCTORS.

They Ably and Thoroughly Discuss the Cholera Question.

A Large Audience Attended the Entertainment at the Temple Last Evening—The Banquet.

The public meeting of the Allen County Medical society, held at the Masonic temple last evening, was a success. It was largely attended by interested citizens, among them being the mayor, members of the city council and other city officials, who occupied prominent seats. The subject under discussion was that of "cholera"—one, by the way, which is of vital interest to every true citizen. Upon the stage were members of the association and invited physicians from home and abroad. The program was opened with an address by the president of the association. Dr. G. L. Greenawalt, who delivered an able paper upon the subject at hand, also welcoming those who were present.

DR. GREENAWALT'S ADDRESS.

"Not many centuries since," said the doctor, "men were burned at the stake for knowing something, having the courage to promulgate their knowledge. We are now in an era of progress unprecedented in the world's history—the age of electricity, of which we have but crossed the threshold—the evening of the age of iron and the morning of the age of aluminum, when a man can expect a 'roasting' for knowing nothing." Continuing, the doctor spoke of the heroes of the profession of medicine, of Pasteur, Koch and others, and stated that the object of the present meeting was not to create a panic, but to study the subject of cholera. He spoke of the necessity of the strictest kind of sanitary laws for the purpose of keeping out the disease. With regard to a crematory for this city's garbage he said: "We are pleased to note that through the agitation of the subject our honorable mayor and council are making preparations for a garbage crematory to reduce the dangers that lurk in the garbage heap and household refuse. Build it large gentlemen, to destroy not only the solids but the liquid offal which are now menacing our health. Fire is the surest germicide." Dr. Greenawalt's paper was closely followed.

DR. WM. H. MYERS.

"History and Causation of Cholera" was Dr. Myer's subject and it was handled in an admirable manner. The doctor discussed the subject under different conditions of soil, heat, altitude and climate. His treatment was exhaustive. Speaking of the theory of cholera and the early history of the plague he said: "The theories of cholera may be classified as follows: Water theory, contact, and the will of God." Speaking of the latter, he continued: "I am obliged to refer to the occult cause underneath the general name of the 'Will of God' theory, which has from the earliest times afforded an excuse for neglecting our own duty by attributing any misfortune of a general nature that befalls a country or people, directly to the hand of God. In ancient times processions to the temples of the gods were the only recognized mode of dealing with the pestilence, and in our own country even now the prayers read in church during a pestilence are often considered as a sufficient cause for a culpable neglect of sanitary measures and quarantine regulations. This idea has evidently had its origin in the belief that diseases were a portion of the necessary sufferings. In Europe during the universal terror the ground rocked beneath the tread of armies of flagellants, scourging their backs with bloody whips, filled the air with the chorus of their judgment hymns. The monks, partaking of the general fright, closed their gates and betook themselves to prayers and masses. Treasures, money and precious vessels were thrown in heaps over the walls of the monasteries as offerings to religion. This occurred in London in the fourteenth century.

DR. GEO. C. STEMEN.

"Symptomatology of Cholera" was Dr. George C. Stemen's subject. His paper was wonderfully interesting and touched upon the subject at ever point. Describing an attack of cholera he said:

"The beginning of the attack occurs, like many other disagreeable things in more than half the cases, at night, whether diarrhoea has pre-existed or not. There is a feeling of stupidity, general weakness, chilliness, rarely a regular chill, and very soon a copious and troublesome diarrhoea: sometimes vomiting at the start, or cramps in the calves, dizziness, headache, very great anxiety, but the majority of the cases exhibit a marked indifference. There is also severe thirst, which is very distressing to many patients, and causes them to drink great quantities of water, notwithstanding that all liquids produce vomiting. The tongue is, as a rule, coated white, and it is only in adults and swiftly fatal cases that the tongue becomes dry. It shows the rapid reduction of the temperature, and in bad cases it is produced with great difficulty."

DR. MILES F. PORTER.

Dr. Porter chose for his subject the "Pathology of Cholera." The doctor is an able and eloquent speaker, and spoke extemporaneously, referring only occasionally to his notes. He told all about the little bacillus which traveled from land to land, and which for so many years eluded the medical men. He paid a glowing tribute to Koch and other noted investigators in the realm of medical science who gave their knowledge to the world gratuitously. He stated that the tiny spiral could not exist in a healthy and normal stomach, but that it found its way and did the greatest damage in debilitated systems. He also stated that acids were the best destroyers of the cholera germs. As an orator and speaker upon scientific topics, Dr. Porter is an ornament to the medical profession of the city. He is eminently patriotic and was welcomed last evening with several bursts of applause.

DR. W. H. WHERY.

Dr. Whery's subject, "Therapeutics of Cholera," was listened to with close attention. He spoke of the excellent effects of calomel as a medicine to be used in the early progress of the disease. He prescribed it in a large dose at the beginning and stated that it should be kept up in smaller doses for several days. He spoke also of a secondary stage of cholera which had been incorrectly called cholerine, but which was exceedingly dangerous. He prescribed as an excellent remedy an injection of three parts of salt, ten parts of brandy and 1,000th part of water given every two or three hours. Dr. Whery's address was closely followed.

DR. CHRISTIAN B. STEMEN.

Under the title of "Prevention of Cholera," Dr. C. B. Stemen gave one of the most interesting addresses of the evening. Among other things, he said:

"I see it estimated that eight-tenths of all foreigners going to Chicago will pass through our city and the necessity of giving special attention to sanitary precautions by the railway officials is very apparent. The inspection of every train before entering each superintendent's division should be required and if any cases are found with symptoms of cholera, let them be taken off and placed where there will be no danger of infecting the public. Pullman coaches should be inspected and if any patient has been sick with any suspicious disease, condemn the car and have it thoroughly disinfected. Every railway should have a hospital car on each division, in which infected or sick passengers could be placed, and on each division at some isolated place a spur or side track should be laid temporarily where this car could be taken. At the end of this track a cottage should be erected where cholera patients could be placed and properly treated. Suppose I should this night receive a message that on No. 3 there was a sick passenger and I was requested to meet him at the station, and on my arrival I would find that he had cholera. What could I do? What must I do? In fact, I am unable to know what I could do, and I very much doubt whether any one present could instruct me what to do."

DR. THOMAS J. DILLS.

"Present Condition of State and National Health Laws" was Dr. Dills' interesting subject. He ably discussed the existing health laws and the necessity of more stringent measures of preventing the spread of diseases. He spoke particularly of the part the general government should take in aiding the states in combatting infectious diseases and thought that the sea board statesshould not be compelled to bear the entire expense of keeping out a cholera plague. Dr. Dills is an eloquent and entertaining speaker and he was frequently applauded. The doctor is a leading member of the state board of health and last evening discussed legislative measures like a statesman.

THE BANQUET.

Immediately after the completion of the program at the Masonic Temple the members of the society repaired to the New Aveline hotel, where the visiting physicians were tendered an elaborate banquet. The dainty menu was served in courses in the large dining room by a competent corps of waiters. Dr. G. L. Greenawalt, of this city, officiated as toastmaster.

Among the doctors in attendance from out of the city were Drs. Bash, Burkett and Shackelford, of Warsaw; C. L. Williams and Alice Williams, of Columbia City; Drs. J. K. Geary and William Ferguson, of Corse; Dr. Cartwright, of Payne, Ohio, and Dr. Rohl, of Sheldon, Ind.

MANY ARE HOMELESS.

Help for the Suffering From Cyclones in Texas.

CISCO, Tex., May 3.—About 800 men are working without pay in a heroic effort to bring order out of chaos and provide shelter for those rendered homeless by the recent cyclone. They only ask that tools and food be furnished them. Provisions are coming in great abundance and the streets are being made passable as fast as possible by removal of the debris. Plenty of physicians and surgeons are on hand and the wounded are now being well cared for. M. B. Owens, a well known stock man, and his little son, aged twelve years, died last night from injuries received in the cyclone.

The Brooklyn Club.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Brooklyn base ball club will be seriously handicapped by the absence of its best batter, Dan Brouthers, who was taken ill yesterday with la grippe. Acting upon a physician's advice, Mr. Byrne sent the first baseman to Brooklyn yesterday afternoon to recuperate. His illness is not considered serious, but he is in no condition to play ball and Mr. Byrne says he will not appear on the field until the return of the team to Brooklyn.

No Change in Booth's Condition.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The condition of Mr. Booth is unchanged this morning.

CONVENTION OF CLUBS.

The Indiana Union of Literary Clubs Meet in This City.

The Session Opened Today—Welcomed by Judge Taylor—Address of Mrs. Smart, the President.

There has been a busy stir and activity at all the depots of the city today, for every passenger train arriving has brought delegates from the various cities in the state to be in attendance upon the fourth annual convention of the Indiana Union of Literary clubs, which met, for a three days' session, at the Second Presbyterian church at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon.

The delegates were welcomed as they arrived by those whose guests they are to be and taken to hospitable homes where everything is being done to make their stay in the city a pleasant one. Wearied somewhat, perhaps, with their car journey, a cordial greeting from their entertainers, a brief period of rest and a bounteous dinner served to refreshen them and make them feel at home, and when they left their respective places of abode to attend the opening of the convention they were all in the best of spirits and eager to enter upon the work which had brought them to our city.

THE SENTINEL has already given in detail much concerning the objects for which the union has been formed and its history, which dates back to the organization at Richmond four years ago. It comprises seventy-five clubs and represents a membership of nearly 3,000, taken from the ranks of the brightest men and women in the state, who are giving to the study of art, literature, science and music that increased attention which the different subjects deserve.

The vague but distinctly feminine rustle of skirts, the nodding of bonnets, a subdued but sibilant whispering, occasionally interrupted by the deeper tones of men's voices, and above all the look on many faces as if a feast of reason were expected, all gave evidence, as the delegates began gathering at the church, that the convention was about to open its sessions.

At 2 o'clock the delegates of the different clubs began registering in the lecture room and one by one they afterwards wended their way into the auditorium, where the meetings will be held.

The decorations of the auditorium were not elaborate but beautiful in their artistic simplicity. Inside the organ rail towered a pyramid of palms, brightened by graceful clusters of Easter lilies, while groups of palms, ferns and blooming plants were tastefully arranged.

The scene was a pretty one indeed, when at 2:45 o'clock all the delegates and members attending had taken their seats, and Mrs. Mary H. Smart, of Lafayette, the president, rapped for order. Rev. A. W. Seabrease, the rector of the Trinity Episcopal church of this city, offered an eloquent prayer, invoking the divine blessing to rest upon the deliberations of the body, and music followed by the Morning Musical.

The secretary, Miss Merica Hoagland, of this city, called the roll, after which she delivered her statement, some of the principal points of which were as follows.

Columbus' discovery of America and the celebration of the event at Chicago has had much to do with the activity in and the progress of the Indiana Union of Literary clubs during the past year. The Columbian exposition has been the discoverer of many of the clubs admitted, for the reason that the two makers of monograms for the exposition from this state brought to our notice many clubs outside of the union and by correspondence with them, some of these clubs were induced to become members of the union. So that we take pride in announcing the admission of no less than thirty clubs during the past year. The union now represents a club membership of 2,685 men and women and the annual expenditure of the clubs in the union amounts to over $6,800, the highest amount expended by any one club being $2,000 and the lowest $6.

Your secretary has sent out during the year four copies of the record of each club for the Columbian exposition—one for the board of lady managers for their encyclopedia of women's organization, one for the committee appointed last year to exhibit the Indiana Union of Literary clubs, one to Mrs McKay for the monogram prepared under the direction of the state board of education, and one for Mrs. Sewall's monogram for the board of lady managers.

The secretary then spoke of the purchase of a scrap book, a gavel and a block for the union and other matters of interest concerning the business of the union and closed by mentioning the success of herself and the president in securing reduced railroad rates from the Central Traffic association for the members attending this convention.

When Miss Hoagland had concluded her statement the president introduced Judge Robert S. Taylor, who, in his own happy way, delivered the address of welcome. He spoke of the history of the organization and traced in a brief manner its rapid rise and progress, its character, importance and the wonderful work it was doing in the way of cultivating a literary taste among the people, and closed by extending a warm welcome to the delegates.

The appointment of committees was next and then Mrs. Smart, the president ... address ... the subject being "The Evolution of the Club Idea." It was interesting and gave a detailed history of the movement which resulted finally in the foundation of the Indiana Union of Literary clubs.

Mrs. Smart is a lady of culture and refinement. Her home is at Lafayette and she is the wife of Prof. Smart, formerly principal of the High school in this city, but now president of the Purdue university at Lafayette. President Smart is in attendance upon the convention and, with Mrs. Smart, is the guest of Miss Hoagland, the secretary of the convention.

THE RECEPTION TONIGHT.

This evening from 8 to 12 o'clock a reception will be tendered at the Morton club rooms by the clubs of this city to the delegates from abroad. The rooms have been handsomely decorated for the occasion and the scene presented, when the guests have assembled, will be a brilliant one. The south room of the lower floor will be the coffee room, where the delicious cup of Mocha will be served all during the evening hours, from a table that will be laid with finest cut glass.

At the coffee urns, Mrs. R. T. McDonald and Mrs. Wm. H. Myers will preside. The Misses Lumbard, Wilder, Evans Hoffman, Hanna and Moffat, clad in the daintiest of costumes, will serve the guests. From this table will also be presented to each guest from abroad a beautiful hand painted piece of China.

In the upper hall, which is also artistically decorated, hidden from view, are apartments where refreshments will be served at small tables.

In the promenade hall, screened by curtains and foilage, musicians will be seated, where during the evening they will play all the late and fashionable music.

FORMING TRUSTS.

The Leather Men Combine With a Capital of $125,000,000.

A Movement on Foot to Start an Opposition Factory to the White Lead Trust.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A leather trust was formed in this city yesterday with a capital of $125,000,000. It will be known as the United States Leather company. The trust is composed of 90 per cent. of the Hemlock and union tanneries in Pennsylvania, New York and Delaware. It has also the owners of the main tracks of hemlock lands in Pennsylvania and large tracts of oak in Tennesse, Virginia and Kentucky. Magone & Co. and Heidlebach, Ickleheimer & Co., are the banking houses interested in the new combine. The temporary officers of the trust for some time have been T. C. Proctor, of the Proctor Leather company, of Boston, president, J. T. Lubby, of No. 77 Gold street, secretary, and J. R. Plum, of No. 42 Spruce street, treasurer. They will probably be elected permanently.

Steps have been taken by several wealthy men to organize with a capital of more than a million of dollars a syndicate in opposition to the present gigantic White Lead trust which is incorporated under New Jersey laws as the National Lead company. In the new movement, it is asserted, are representatives of the white lead companies now operated independent of the trust. Other men in it are well known paint manufacturers and some men of money on the outside.

SUPT. JOHNSON TALKS

About the Charges Preferred Against the Feeble Minded School by Mr. Weber.

(Indianapolis Journal.)

Certain charges have been filed with the state board of charities against the management of the Indiana School for Feeble Minded Youths at Fort Wayne for some time. The charges are in part preferred by C. E. Weber, who was employed in keeping the storeroom accounts, and who was discharged shortly after Mr. Blake left the institution, and part is said to be current rumors about Fort Wayne. Mr. Weber expects to file affidavits covering misuse of state money, the non crediling certain earnings of the institution, fraud in the letting of contracts, the housing of a brother free of charge, indiscretion on the part of some of the officials, etc. The secretary of the state board of charities, Mr. Alexander Johnson, said, when asked about the matter last night, as to whether or not an investigation would proceed: "I think likely the affairs of the institution will be thoroughly investigated. I referred the matter to Governor Matthews before he left for New York, and look for his decision soon, perhaps tomorrow. I received letters from Mr. Hackett, president of the board of trustees, and Superintendent Leonard, both of whom urge it, that the public might be satisfied and the work of the institution no longer obstructed.

"What do you know about the charges?"

"Nothing. The method of buying supplies employed at present was suggested by the state board of charities, and has been made obligatory in the institutions of this city. By the alleged misuse of earnings, I think is meant the tuitions paid to the institution by some parents, which are applied by law to the maintenance fund, and never pass to the state auditor's or treasurer's hands. It is my opinion that the books will be found all right. Cruel treatment of the children I should have thought would have been the last charge to be made ... I have ... not well founded."

THE WORLD'S FAIR

Enters Its Third Day Under Threatening Clouds,

But Later Sunshine Prevails and Dispels the Gloom—Thousands Visit the Grounds.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, May 3.—Clouds and sun alternated at the exposition today in a most tantalizing manner for the visitors, but no rain fell and Old Sol gains the mastery in the end. With a persistency deserving of a better cause, the clouds have hung over the world's fair for nearly three weeks in succession and warm, sunny weather, such as everybody wants to enjoy who is coming to see the wonders of the White City, seems as far away as it would be in November. Still, the world's fair officials and contractors were happy for the absence of rain, as they are able to push the work on the roadways and buildings which remain in an unfinished state. Over 600,000 square yards of roadway have already been made firm and smooth for the summer crowds and 100,000 yards more have to be put in the same condition. The sound of the steam roller is a familiar one and mud is an extremely scarce quantity compared with the condition of things on the opening day.

The indications this morning are that yesterday's crowd will be largely increased, as the magnificent distances are filling up with people from all parts of the world. Over 11,000 persons paid fifty cents to see as much of the fair as they could yesterday, and the exposition grounds are so extensive that at no time did there appear to be more than 5,000 sight-seeing people within the gates. The executive officers of the exposition are well satisfied with the attendance so far, considering the threatening weather, the dislike of people to tramp through mud and the unfinished state of several departmental and foreign buildings. The visitors who are interested in electrical machinery are disappointed more than any others, as the exhibits in that building are the farthest behind. In fact, there is hardly anything worth seeing in the big building yet. Thousands of people yearn for a sight of the treasures in the fine arts building as they stop to admire its incomparable classic exterior, but paintings and other works of art are still arriving and the doors are closed to the public for the reason that the installation would have to stop if people were allowed to enter. The finishing touches are being put to the exhibits in several of the state buildings, but some are as far behind in installation as Russia, whose show was delayed by the ice in the Baltic Sea. It seems to be fashionable to be late at the fair as well as at church and in a great measure this appears to be due to the general adoption of a tardy policy among employes of the state boards and contractors. Like everybody else who has anything to sell or is benefitted by the fair, these men have evidently made up their minds to make their jobs last as long as possible and get all the money they can out of the fair.

GETTING EVEN WITH RESTAURANTS.

Actual costly experience with the restaurant monopolists in the park has induced the visiting thousands to devise ways and means to defeat the scheme of the caterers. Lunch baskets and hand bags are carried by hundreds of people and in that way they are able to spend the whole day at the fair without being famished or parting with a goodly amount for a frail lunch. The price lists of the restaurants are Eiffel tower-like in their proportions, but not stationary, like that structure. The prices vary according to the willingness of the patron to pay. Waiters collect for everything served, and collect what they please. It is reported that the council of administration will take the thrifty restaurateurs in hand and compel them to adopt a fixed price list which will bring food within the reach of persons of moderate means. There was no more trouble among the waiters today. The strikers have been discharged, and new men are filling their places.

There was a small blaze in machinery hall early this morning, caused by the crossing of electric light wires. The exposition fire department was called out but before it reached the spot the fire was put out by a guard armed with a Babcock extinguisher. The damage was trifling.

FINANCES ALL RIGHT.

Secretary Carlisle Able to Meet Any Emergency.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Senator McPherson of New Jersey, who is here for a few days prior to his departure for the summer, being a member of the finance committee, has watched the financial situation closely. "I do not believe," said he, "that there is anything in the money situation that will necessitate the president calling an extra session of congress earlier than he intended, probably September 15. The financial condition of the country is right if the people will only let it alone. The secretary of the treasury has the confidence of the public and they believe that he will be able to meet any emergency that may arise."

THIS DAY IN THE PAST.

1469—Niccolo Machiavelli, noted Italian statesman and essayist, born, died 1527.

1493—Pope Alexander issued the famous bull dividing newly discovered lands between Spain and Portugal.

1500—Portuguese under Cabral landed in Brazil.

1761—Manasseh Cutler, founder of the Massachusetts colony at Marietta, O., born in Killingly, Conn.; died 1823.

1814—"First Restoration;" Louis XVIII, brother of Louis XVI, made solemn entry into Paris.

1845—Thomas Hood, English poet, died in London; born 1798.

1863—Battle of Chancellorsville, Va.; defeat of the Federals under General Hooker.

1890—Great strike of carpenters for an 8-hour day; in most cities they gained it.

1893—Destructive tornadoes in Kansas, Oklahoma and Illinois, which were felt in a smaller degree in Missouri and Indiana.

LODGES—A. O. U. W. No. 30; Improved Order of Red Men, No. 106—Wayne Castle No. 2, Knights of the Golden Eagle; Loyal lodge K. of P.

MACHINE WOODWORKERS—Regular meeting.

The town elections held in the state Monday were not very exciting. Politics was in it and the advantages taking the state over is with the democrats.

EVERYBODY is praying that Mr. Hicks, of Missouri, may shatter his reputation as a weather prophet upon his predictions for May, which he says will be very much like April.

IT perhaps is not necessary to remark that the roads of the country are not as passible as they should be. No doubt the present condition of road working will continue until there is a universal agitation of the question.

THE Daily Record, the new two-cent morning paper at Indianapolis, made its appearance yesterday. It announces that it will be "A daily paper for busy people." It is a four page, six-column paper, and neat and clean typographically. The managers say that through the American Press association the paper has secured a first class news service. The paper will print a Sunday edition.

PEOPLE who want to see the world's fair complete ought not to be in any hurry about getting to Chicago, at least not just now, anyway. Those who have been there agree that at present everything is in a state of confusion. It will be some weeks yet before all the exhibits will be placed in order. No world's fair was ever yet complete in its preparations on the opening day, and no other world's fair ever had so much of energy and sagacity employed to complete the work within the briefest possible time as this one has.

IN no matter of capital punishment the world has undergone a radical change of opinion. The number of crimes for the commission of which a man is doomed to death is rapidly on the decrease. In the laws of England a couple of centuries ago there were one hundred and fifty "crimes" for which death was the penalty. In Blackstone's day, a century or so ago, one writer asserts that there were almost three hundred capital offenses. Now, in civilized nations, there are but very few. In these days there is a very considerable opposition to capital punishment. If there were no politics in penal institutions, if it were possible to send a murderer to prison and keep him there during the term of his natural life it would not be difficult to abolish the rope and the dynamo altogether.

THE SENTINEL in its issue of Monday, the day of the evening that President Cleveland passed through this city on his way home from Chicago, published the following item: "President Cleveland and party will pass through the city again tonight, his train being the second section of No. 2, due here about ... o'clock. Conductor Al Estry will take the train from this city to Crestline." And yet our esteemed evening contemporary claims all the honor of having been the cause of attracting the crowds to the depot to see Mr. Cleveland. The item published was in our railroad columns, where the latest news concerning the railroads and manufactories of the city can be found every day. You have not found all the good things in THE SENTINEL until you have read this department.

Welcome to Our City.

THE SENTINEL extends a welcome greeting to the delegates of the Indiana Union of Literary clubs who are in the city to attend the sessions of the fourth annual convention of their state organization. They will find warm hearts and hospitable homes among us, and no effort will be spared by our citizens to make their visit a pleasant one. They come for a laudable and noble purpose and their deliberations can not but result in good to those attending and the advancement of the objects for which their clubs are formed.

It is a convention different in many respects from any that has ever assembled in Fort Wayne. We have had political and religious and business conventions of various kinds, but never before a convention whose members came to devote their time to a purpose such as this one—the discussion of questions relating to the advancement of the people in literary, musical and artistic pursuits, which is the object of the Indiana Union of Literary clubs.

The delegates come from every walk in life almost, from every business, every profession, and represent both sexes. They are from the ranks of the brightest intellectual men and women in the state, and among their numbers are some of the most noted personages. Their sessions cannot fail of being interesting and profitable and should be attended by as many of our citizens as possible.

They come from their homes to devote the few days spent here not for pleasure alone, not for profit to themselves only, but that they may be instrumental in doing something to advance the noble causes for which they are laboring—the raising of the literary standard among the people of our state and the advancement of the great cause of education. In this mission THE SENTINEL wishes them an earnest God speed and warmly welcomes them to our city.

Guard Against Cholera.

The physicians of our city are awake to the importance of the necessity of guarding against the invasion of cholera this year, as was evident from the meeting held last night at the Masonic Temple when the subject was discussed. Their lectures and talks were learned and interesting and showed that they are studying carefully the origin, nature and every phase of the dread disease which they may be called upon to combat. The city authorities and the people generally should co-operate with them to guard against the coming of cholera. This they can do by placing every section of the city in a good sanitary condition, and having done so much of the danger will have been removed.

Fort Wayne, and in fact all the cities of the nation, are better prepared now to fight this disease than ever before. With the growth of medical science and a better understanding of the disease there is coupled a general improvement in the facilities for preventing its spread. The facilities for communication by telegraph and for keeping the facts as to its conditions and progress well before the authorities are good. The medical world, the commercial world, the news gathering and disseminating world, and municipal and governmental organizations are all on the alert against it and this will prove extremely valuable in preventing the spread of the disease; more valuable than any organization and preparation that has ever before existed.

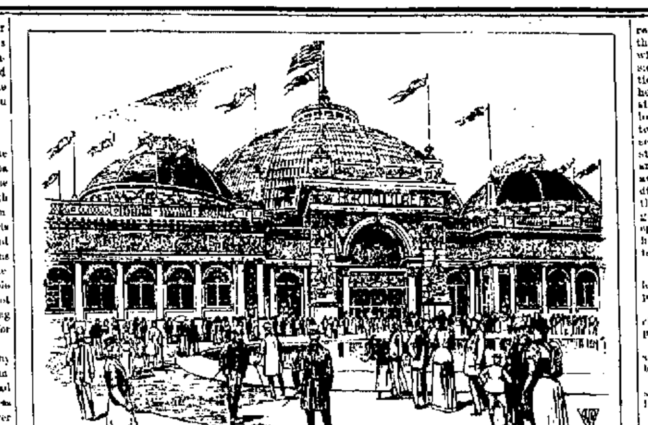

A COAL mine in Honeybrook, Pa., took fire several months ago, burning away the supports and closing the opening. It was supposed to have burned itself out, but lately it is said to be burning fiercer than ever. The surface near the strippings is so heated that water flowing over it is immediately dried up. Grave apprehension is felt for the surrounding mines, as the fires are liable to eat into their workings. Millions of dollars of coal property is imperiled. The village of Honeybrook, immediately over the mine, is menaced by a collapse of the earth. Fissures already run through the town from which quantities of smoke and gases are escaping. The people are in a state of terror.

ON March 4, 1889, when Benjamin Harrison was being inaugurated, the wife of Robert H. Young, of Savannah, N. C., presented him with a daughter. About the hour Cleveland was delivering his inaugural address Mrs. Young gave birth to another baby, a boy, who has been named Grover Cleveland Young.

THE disposition which it is said has been developed in Washington society to pronounce Mr. Bissell's name with the accent on the last syllable is a species of perversity common enough in many parts of the United States. Parnell is a similar name that has suffered in like manner, and there are some hundreds of Purnells in Maryland whose ancestors for more than two centuries have accented the name on the first syllable, though northerners nowadays insist upon shifting the accent to the last.

QUEEN VICTORIA, it is said, showed her growing infirmities on her recent Italian trip. At Cherbourg she had to be borne up by her faithful and stalwart Highlanders. They held her beneath the arms. She supplemented the support they gave her by two sticks and walked like one who was quite broken down in the knees. Every step she took obviously gave her pain. She seems to suffer from gout, rheumatism.

COLUMBUS barracks at Columbus, O., is one of the army posts especially coveted by officers. Life at Columbus is still simple enough to make it possible for an army officer with no means but his pay to help lead the society of the place. There is plenty of house room at the barracks, dress parade is a popular diversion with the people of Columbus, and no commissioned officer, save perhaps the quartermaster, has any very exacting duties.

FRONT OF HORTICULTURAL BUILDING.

HOW TO SEE CHICAGO.

INTERESTING INFORMATION FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR TOURIST.

Points of Interest That Are Worth Visiting—How to Reach the Fair Grounds. Hotel Accommodations and Expenses. Places of Amusement.

What to do and which way to turn first on landing in Chicago will be the puzzler to the majority of visitors.

There are four ways of reaching the exposition grounds in Jackson park from down town Chicago. The distance is seven miles from city hall, which is within a few squares of the depots of the leading railways. The elevated road gives the quickest transit, and its lines circumvent the park. The fare is 5 cents. The down town terminus is at Congress street, 12 to 15 minutes' walk from city hall. Running time from Congress street to Jackson park, .. minutes.

The Illinois Central railroad will carry passengers to the grounds for 25 cents the round trip. The depot is on Michigan avenue.

The Lake Michigan boats will carry passengers to the exposition pier for 25 cents the round trip. Their landing in Chicago is 10 minutes' walk from city hall, just adjoining the Illinois Central depot.

The Cottage Grove avenue cable cars run to the southern entrance to the park. Fare, 5 cents. They leave the heart of the city via Wabash avenue and turn on a loop through Lake and State streets.

Chicago is divided into three geographical divisions known in local parlance as the "West Side," "North Side" and "South Side." The South Side, with its Michigan, Calumet and Prairie avenues given up to the homes of the millionaire element, harbors Chicago's aristocracy of wealth. The exposition is in the South Side district, as are the Auditorium, the courthouse, postoffice, the principal clubs and the Art institute. The great thoroughfares of the South Side in the central section of the city are Wabash and Michigan avenues.

The West Side contains ninety-five parks and avenues, and originally contained one-half of Chicago's population. Madison street is the central thoroughfare of the West side. The North Side includes Lincoln park, the homes of many millionaires, a long stretch of the Lake Shore drive, the archiepiscopal palace, the Farwell block, the residence of Lord John Wentworth and the Northwestern university, the highest seat of learning in the state of Illinois. The central thoroughfare is Clark street.

A system of parks and gardens engirdles the city. The parks cover 1,874 acres, the boulevards extend .. miles. Each of the city divisions above noted has its own system of street cars. The City Railway company operates the South Side system, consisting of cable and horse roads. The North Side is controlled by the North Chicago company, which runs both cable and horse cars. The West Chicago company monopolizes the West Side with horse and cable cars.

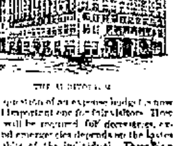

The hotel accommodations of Chicago and those suburbs easy of access include about 2,000 hotels of all grades. Nearly 300 of these have been built specially for World's fair patrons and are in the vicinity of the grounds. They have cost nearly $4,000,000 for construction, and with few exceptions are of brick, stone and iron. Heretofore the regular prices in the Chicago hotels have ranged from $2 down to $2 a day. Thousands of private houses in all parts of the city are advertising lodgings and meals for exposition patronage.

People who wish to economize will doubtless prefer to save time and money by lodging in the district around Fair park. The accommodations there now foot up 5,000 rooms. The rates will fluctuate with the demand, but the competition will be great. The hotels in the district include the Hotel Endeavor, with 620 rooms for Christian Endeavor societies, the Woman's Dormitory, with 800 single rooms, and the Hotel Veteran, with 750 rooms and barrack halls for Grand Army veterans and their families.

The exhibition buildings will also each contain one or more restaurants, with tables and lunch counters, where visitors may stay their appetites while taking in the fair or sit down to hearty meals. Parties lodging at a distance from the grounds will therefore be spared anxiety about reaching home in time for dinner.

Visitors who lodge in the city proper and have time on their hands, or who make it a business to do the town, will not feel a lack of attractions peculiar to the metropolis of the west. The year 1893 opened with 30 theaters giving daily performances, and to these will be added many temporary palaces of amusement. At least a dozen of the celebrated tall buildings of Chicago will repay inspection. The first of these is the Auditorium, which is reported to have the largest theater in the world and a sightseeing tower 20 stories high. The Masonic temple at State and Randolph streets is a city in itself, covering a quarter of a block. It is 21 stories high. The Woman's temple, the chamber of commerce, the Rookery, the Pullman, the Home, the Germania, the Ashland, the Royal Insurance, the Monadnock, the Unity, the Rialto and several other tall structures are worthy of note as specimens of Chicago's commercial architecture.

In memorial art there is the new equestrian statue of General Grant and the St. Gaudens monument to Abraham Lincoln, both in Lincoln park. The old Douglas monument on the lake shore at Thirty-fifth street stands on high ground overlooking the lake and is well worth a visit. Other memorials of minor note are as follows: Armstrong bust, Clark and Adams streets; Columbus statue, Jackson park; Drake fountain and Columbus statue between the city hall and courthouse; Electric fountain, Lincoln park; Fort Dearborn Massacre, Pullman .., Calumet avenue and Eighteenth street; ... monument, Lincoln park; Great fire ... De Koven street; La Salle monument, Lincoln park; Linnæus monument, Lincoln park; Ottawa Indian group, Lincoln park; Police monument, Haymarket square.

THE AUDITORIUM.

The question of an expense budget is now the all important one for fair visitors. How much will be required for necessaries, extras and emergencies depends on the tastes and habits of the individual. Three New Yorkers who are planning a trip to Chicago recently computed their estimates of expenses. One of them has had much experience as a sightseer and was at the centennial. His estimate is in the column below headed "Old Stager." Another has lived in Chicago, and the third is a stranger to that city. Their items and totals are as follows:

	Old Stager	Chicagoan	Stranger
Lodgings, three days	$3.00	$4.00	$6.00
Meals, three days	6.00	8.50	..
Car fare, three days	1.00	1.00	1..
Admissions, catalogues, guides, etc., three days	4.50	4.50	..
Totals	$14.50	$16.00	$17.00

The gate fee will be 50 cents, and the admission to the several departments 50 to .. cents. Economy of time and cost of living has been taken into account in limiting the sojourn to three days.

WORLD'S CONGRESSES.

While the Columbian exposition at Jackson park is designed to stimulate and satisfy the material wants of mankind, a series of more than 100 moral and intellectual expositions, or conventions, have been arranged for this summer in Chicago. The avowed object of the World's Congress auxiliary in organizing these international congresses is to establish fraternal relations among the leaders of mankind, review the progress already achieved, state the living problems now awaiting solution and suggest the means of further progress.

In other words, the spirit of what is called university extension is the spirit of this international congress scheme. The familiar mottoes under which it is being advanced are, "Not things, but men," and "Not matter, but mind."

To make the proceedings of the various congresses as worthy of a worldwide publication as possible, to reduce as far as practicable the expense of such publication, to prevent repetitions of matter and duplicate assignments of speakers, to secure such a strength and force of treatment as will insure the widest reading, and to secure a just representation of all the participating countries, the themes to be presented in the various congresses will be selected with a view to make a complete and orderly treatment of the general subject embraced in the department. The programmes of the different departments and divisions will be carefully compared, and all papers and remarks will be strictly limited to an allotted time. The object will be to state results and present existing problems and suggested remedies, and for this purpose lengthy papers are neither necessary nor desirable.

ART INSTITUTE.

[Where the congresses will be held.]

The congresses have been arranged in the following order:

May—Woman's Progress, The Public Press, Medicine and Surgery.

June—Temperance, Moral and Social Reform, Commerce and Finance.

July—Music, Literature, Education.

August—Engineering, Art, Architecture, etc.; Government, Law Reform, Political Science, etc.; General Department, Science and Philosophy.

September—Labor, Religions, Missions and Church Societies, Sunday Rest.

October—Public Health, Agriculture.

A WORK ROOM.

Every House Should Have Such an Apartment in It.

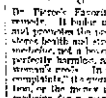

No matter how large or how small your house may be, there should be one room set apart for a sewing room where all appliances for work should be kept, and which may be shut against all of the outside world.

If ever such a room is appreciated it is when the dressmaker comes on her half yearly or quarterly visit, and where together you plan and work without danger of interruption.

The room need not necessarily be large, but it should be light and sunny, and should have a large closet, fitted with plenty of roomy drawers. If there is a carpet on the floor, cover it with linen, so that the threads and scraps may be easily gathered up. Place the sewing machine to the right of the window, and have a good-sized table upon which cutting may be done. Have low, comfortable chairs, and a big family work basket. The darning bag and all the conveniences for work should be kept in this room, and not be allowed to overflow in any other part of the house.

In this way all evidence of labor will be kept out of sight of the men of the family, who are not over and above fond of seeing too much of the domestic machinery.

Once such a room is established, you will wonder how you ever got along without it, and the positive luxury it affords you will more than repay you for what trouble and expense you may have had in fitting it up.

"How do I look?" That depends, madam, upon how you feel. If you're suffering from functional derangements, irregularities or weaknesses, you're sure to "look it." And Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the remedy. It builds up the system, regulates and promotes the proper functions, and restores health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine, not a beverage; purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and made especially for woman's needs. In the cure of all "female complaints," it's guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold so. Think of that, when the dealer says something else (which pays him better) is "just as good."

"Times have changed." So have methods. The modern improvements in pills are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They help Nature, instead of fighting with her. Sick and nervous headache, biliousness, costiveness, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured.

ABOUT FINGER NAILS.

Sickness Is Shown by Short Ridges—Superstitions About Cutting Them.

The philosophy of the finger nails is a most interesting study, simple though it may appear at first sight.

It has been computed that the average growth of the finger nails is 1-32d of an inch per week, or a little more than an inch and a half a year. The growth, however, depends to a great extent upon the rate of nutrition, and during periods of sickness it is undoubtedly retarded.

It is understood to grow faster in summer than in winter, and differs for different fingers, being most rapid in the middle finger and slowest in the thumb and little finger.

According to the rate of growth agreed upon by eminent authorities the average time taken for each finger nail to grow its full length is about four and a half months, and at this rate a man of 70 years would have renewed his nails 187 times.

Taking the length of each nail at half an inch he would have grown seven feet nine inches of nail on each finger, and on all his fingers and thumbs an aggregate of seventy-seven feet five inches.

It is asserted by some that the nails of the right hand grow faster than those of the left.

It is interesting to watch the history of a case of disease as recorded upon the finger nails; we see on each of them a distinct ridge, showing that the portion of the nail which has grown since the acute attack is much thinned out.

If a person has broken his arm within eighteen months, the ridges on the nails of the hand of the affected arm may be seen, while they will be absent on the other hand.

The more acute the illness the sharper will be the ridge. Extreme anxiety and mental depression have the same effect on the nails as physical disease.

The finger nail is a very enduring evidence of disease. If there has been an acute rheumatism in the system, with a temperature of 104 or 105 degrees, the nail will be cut down sharply.

In typhoid fever, where the disease comes on gradually, there is no sharp cutting of the nail.

There are several well-known sayings with regard to the paring of finger nails, and among them are the following:

"Cut them on Monday, cut them for health; cut them on Tuesday, cut them for wealth; cut them on Wednesday, cut them for a letter; cut them on Thursday for something better; cut them on Friday, you cut for a wife; cut them on Saturday, cut for life; cut them on Sunday you cut for evil, for all of that week you'll be ruled by the devil."

IN A DUEL.

Took Part in One, Though He Did Not Believe in Them.

"Did I ever take part in a duel?" repeated Robert L. Washingham in response to a query by one of a crowd of commercial travelers. "Yes, I once took part in a duel. Not as a principal, mind you, but as a second only, and even that greatly against my own inclinations. It was just across the Rio Grande, in the town of Gonzales. Gonzales, as you are no doubt aware, is in the little neck of the state of Tamaulipas which runs up along the edge of the Rio Grande and is not far from the out of Guerrero. I went across the river to Gonzales, it is almost on the bank, to make a trade for a horse with a young hidalgo who lived there. I was working the Southern part of Texas in a buggy, and needed a good horse to take the place of a plug I had. After the trade, which was satisfactory, I spent the night at the hacienda, and passed a delightful evening with the father, mother and sister of the young man. Next morning before leaving I saw a young Spaniard or Mexican of the better class, accompanied by two companions, ride up and engage Juan (this was the name of Senor Manteca's son) in conversation. A few words passed when Juan was struck down unarmed as he was, and lay unconscious. Senor Manteca ran out bare-headed, but with his sword, and heaping maledictions on the newcomer, demanded at once satisfaction under the code, as well as I could understand him, with my imperfect knowledge of his language and his rapid enunciation. That I was right about it, however, was shown by the stranger's cool reply: 'Now, here, swords;' and throwing off his coat as he pointed to one of his companions and said: 'He is my second.' At this Senor Manteca sprang to me, and asked me to act as his second in the duel. I tried to let him understand that it would be best to compromise the trouble, but he didn't understand me. What could I do? I would have been very glad to run away, but I couldn't. I tried to explain to the old gentleman that dueling was against my principles (and inclinations) and that I knew nothing on earth about the code duello, but he took my explanation for consent, and prepared for the fray. Having partaken of his hospitality, I knew that I ought at least to see fair play; so, drawing his revolver, I stood just behind him and watched the fight. Senor Manteca realized that in endurance he was no match for the young man, and that to conquer him at all he must do it all at once, and, as a result, he went at him like a cyclone. He must have been a splendid swordsman in his young days, for such parries and thrusts, and such lightning-like rapidity were never seen or dreamed of by me.

The consummation of the old régime was, for in a very short time the young man lay on the ground with the blood trickling from his side. This completed the 'satisfaction' desired, and Senor Manteca helped his companions lift him up, staunch his blood and start him home. Then he turned his attention to his son, who we found was not seriously injured, but, having been struck on the head, was merely stunned. Do you know I couldn't get away for three or four days? The disinterested and courageous act of the 'brave American' awakened the gratitude of the entire family. In spite of their flattering appreciation, however, I don't believe I was intended for a duelist."

Pitcher Ryan has asked for his release from Providence. He wants to play in Buffalo.

Pitcher Frank Killen says the change in rules does not affect his pitching in the least.

The days of $5000 and $7000 base ball salaries have gone by and will probably never return.

Manager Earle of Birmingham has scooped in first baseman Dan Stearns late of Buffalo.

Pitcher John Clarkson has been ordered to report for duty with the Cleveland Club at Atlanta, Ga.

Keeler is making a good impression at third in New York, and is likely to remain at that position.

Urquhart and Fournier make a decidedly Frenchy battery, so far as names are concerned, for Buffalo.

Shortstop Monte Cross late of Baltimore has signed with Savannah, Buffalo having waived claim to him.

This will be a great year for the-some pitchers' games. Watch the crop ripen as the season advances.

RAILWAYS AND SHOPS.

Thirty-Six Carpenters Suspended From the Pittsburg Shops.

Accidents, Incidents and Personal Mention of the People About the Railway Centers.

As is usually the case in the spring of the year work in the Pittsburg shops is getting scarce, particularly in the car department. Yesterday all the new work was completed, and as there was nothing for the men who work in this department to do thirty of them were indefinitely suspended. Six laborers in the lumber department were also suspended. The Sentinel representative called on Master Mechanic W. W. Atterbury this morning to inquire if there would be any further suspensions. That gentleman stated that work was a little slack in some of the departments of the locomotive works, but he thought it would not be necessary to reduce the force, at least not at present. What the future had in store for them was not apparent at this time. The indications, however, are favorable for plenty of work.

MINOR MENTION.

N. Gray has resigned as a helper in the Pittsburg boiler shop.

Frank Mannix and M. J. Tierney have returned from Chicago.

Boilermakers are repairing one of the boilers in the electric light works.

L. J. Schmidt, and employe of the Pittsburg lumber yards, is sick and off duty.

D. S. McCarthy, engine hostler at the Pittsburg round house, was taken ill yesterday.

F. DeFrain, of the tank department of the Pittsburg shops, is attending a funeral today.

W. Slagel has gone to Denver, Col., to reside. He formerly worked in the Bass boiler shop.

Miss Rose Webber has returned to her duties in the electric light works after a brief illness.

Boilermaker J. Kelley reported at the Pittsburg shops this morning, after a few days' absence.

C. D. Thomas, the Nickel Plate telegraph operator, has gone to Latta, Ohio, to take charge of an office.

Ed. W. Bulger, machinist in the Bass works, is attending the world's fair. He went up there last Sunday.

The lawn about the office buildings at the electric light works is being cleaned and fixed up in nice shape.

J. J. Wood, general superintendent of the electric light works, has gone east in the interest of the company.

Van Cleary has been transferred from the winding to the arc testing department of the electric light works.

Fort Wayne contractors who are out of a job will find an advertisement in another column for bids for a hotel at Hartford City.

Nickel Plate Conductor Phipps has gone to Ohio to visit his parents, who reside near Bellevue. He will be absent a week or ten days.

O. W. Ruggles, now general passenger agent of the Michigan Central, began his railroad career as newsboy on the trains of that road.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton has contracted with the Brooks Locomotive works for six freight and two large switching engines.

In the way of reducing expenses the Queen and Crescent has dropped three of its traveling passenger agents and a large number of clerks in the various departments.

Charles Millard, general agent of the Missouri Car and Foundry company, has closed a contract with the Queen and Crescent road to build one thousand box cars.

William Worth, Pittsburg telegraph operator, is entertaining his brother from North Amboy, Mich., who is also an operator employed by the Lake Shore company.

The sale of tickets at the Fort Wayne depot of the Lake Erie and Western railroad for the month just ended shows an increase of $155 over the corresponding month of 1892.

The Illinois Central is in the market for forty-eight engines; of these twenty-six will be of the mogul type, seven eight-wheeled passenger engines, and fifteen six-wheeled switching engines.

General Manager W. H. Canniff, of the Lake Shore, has appointed M. E. Burgess ticket agent at Moshersville, Mich., vice W. M. Hough, resigned, and C. M. Murphy agent at Stony Point, Mich.

T. B. Slagrey, who had been taking a vacation, resumed his work on the Nickel Plate local freight yesterday. He is a brakeman. Frank Bailey, another brakeman, also returned to his work yesterday after a short rest.

The Railway Yardmasters' association will hold its annual meeting in Duluth June 11. There have been a number of additions of late to the association, and the outlook for the organization, President Hicks says, is much brighter.

Foreman F. J. Scheid, of the Pittsburg round house, received a telegram last evening stating that John Rick, father of Mrs. Scheid, was lying at the point of death at his home in Lancaster, Pa. The sick man is also the father of John Ruck, jr., the Pennsylvania car inspector recently promoted to foreman of the gang at Delphos, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Scheid and Mr. Ruck left today for Lancaster.

Yesterday the Electric Light company shipped a seventy-five arc light addition to the Wakesha, Wis., Electric Light plant.

A car load of electric light fixtures left the Electric Light works this morning for the world's fair, to be added to the company's exhibit.

John Wackmiller has returned to his duties in the electric light works after an absence on account of the death and funeral of C. Haffner.

Charlie Johnson had as his guest last night Dr. J. K. Geary, of Coesse, who came here to attend the banquet of the physicians. The doctor is Mrs Johnson's father.

Pittsburg trainmen who reported after an absence: Engineer J. Lanigan, Firemen S. A. Sine, C. W. Larimore, W. R. Gillespie, C. A. Snyder and J. E. Stoup.

N. G. Rhoades, a fireman on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, was taken suddenly ill on his engine near Chicago yesterday and was brought to his home in this city last night.

Pittsburg trainmen who are off duty: Engineers T. McCarthy, H. Kelker, J. Parrish, M. Nolan and C. Calmey, business; Engineer Theodore Titus, sick; Engineer Philip Titus, wife's mother sick. Fireman N. Hayes, sick.

The Nickel Plate annual meeting will be held today. The New York owners will attend. From Cleveland the party will go to Detroit to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Central.

Brakeman J. M. Wells and J. W. Kinde, of the Nickel Plate, are in line of promotion and when the new trains are put on the road they will take positions as baggage masters. G. A. Rubach, another freight brakeman, is under instructions for the passenger service.

Freight traffic on all through lines has fallen off to practically nothing and trainmen have no trouble now in getting leave of absence. Among the Nickel Plate trainmen who are on the off duty list are Conductors Holley, Smart and Engle, Brakemen P. Collins, H. Hibinger, J. W. Norris, Cavanaugh and Whitmack.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "The Pittsburg, the West Shore and the Nickel Plate roads have put on a fast train between Boston and Chicago, which is making it quite warm for all of its competitors. This line has the shortest route by eighteen miles and schedules its trains as fast as any except the Empire state express."

The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern has notified its employes that they will be given vacations to attend the world's fair, and they will be furnished passes for those dependent upon them for support. The company asks that the men inform the boards of the various departments about the time they would like to attend the exposition so that proper arrangements can be made.

Monday morning nearly every union carpenter in Muncie laid down his tools and refused to work. Some weeks ago they presented a scale of prices to the seventy-five or more contractors, asking thirty cents per hour, nine hours to constitute a day's work. The men have been receiving twenty five and thirty cents per hour and are endeavoring to make the price uniform. Many of the contractors refused to accede to the demands, hence the refusal to work. Work on the many buildings in course of erection in the city is at a standstill.

William Bondure and Scott Tilbury have applied for patents on a walking stick which combines cane and camp stool in a compact form. The hand end of the cane is tubular in form and in it rests the stool when not in use. The outfit is not any larger or heavier than the ordinary "dude" cane now so popular with a certain class. When the stool is adjusted, or unfolded, it forms a comfortable seat 12x16 inches, which will bear a weight of 200 pounds. The report that the seating privilege of the world's fair had been purchased by parties who proposed to charge exorbitant prices for chairs and stools is responsible for this invention. With the combination cane the world's fair visitor can sit or stand at will and thus relieve the sight-seeing tour of its most tiresome feature.

A feature of the Columbian celebration which must excite the interest of foreigners as well as Americans will be the train which leaves New York in the afternoon and reaches Chicago next morning. This will be the fastest long distance train in the world. English railways are noted for short distance speed. But neither in England or on the continent is there a stretch like that between New York and Chicago made by a train in nineteen hours. Ten years ago the usual running time between these two cities was thirty six hours. The "Chicago limited," which made the trip in twenty-four hours, was at first regarded with amazement, but is now apparently destined soon to become a "back number." Of course the enterprising competition which characterizes American railway management will not permit one line to enjoy a monopoly of speed. The first Columbian express will doubtless be followed by equally fast trains on other lines, and once established will be regularly maintained in the future. This will enable passengers to leave the metropolis at the close of business hours one day and reach Chicago for the opening of business the following morning.

THE ROCK OF PETER.

Imposing Ceremonies Promised for the Corner Stone Laying.

All Fort Wayne Catholics Will Do Honor to St. Peter's Congregation Next Sunday.

If the weather is fair, Sunday afternoon, the corner stone of the new St. Peter's Catholic church, in the southeastern part of the city, will be laid with imposing ceremonies. Last evening delegates from all the various Catholic organizations of Fort Wayne met at Library hall to discuss plans for the purpose of assisting Father Messman and St. Peter's congregation in properly celebrating the event. The meeting having been called to order John H. Brannan was chosen chairman and Patrick Ryan secretary. Father Messman was then called upon and stated the object of the gathering. He said that he hoped for fair weather and a good turn out of organized Catholics in the parade. He thought that the best plan to get all societies in line properly would be for the various organizations to meet at their respective churches first. St. Peters' societies would then march down to St. Marys church and both over to Library hall, where they would met the societies of St. Pauls and St. Patrick's church. He said that he hoped the various societies would be assembled at Library hall by near 3 o'clock. From here the procession will move down Calhoun street in full marching order and thence east to St. Peter's church. Father Messman also stated that the City band had been employed for the occasion and if thought necessary, the First Regiment band could be secured also. It was decided by the committee from St. Peter's church that the second band would be procured and this announcement was greeted with applause. Colonel Rohan will have charge of the uniformed orders by virtue of his rank and J. Wessel was appointed grand marshal of the day, with the following aids. Peter Nesbaum, of St. Mary's congregation, Valentine Fox, St. Paul's congregation; George P. Gordon, St. Patrick's congregation, and Peter Harber, jr., will represent St. Peter's congregation. It was further decided that these gentlemen would meet with Colonel Rohan and staff at library hall on Thursday evening to perfect arrangements as to marching order and other details. During the meeting a resolution was offered by Patrick Ryan "that it was the sense of this meeting that every Catholic in Fort Wayne turn out and assist St. Peter's church in their corner stone laying ceremonies." The resolution was adopted unanimously.

If the plans are carried out as now arranged the laying of the corner-stone will be an event long to be remembered in the city. Addresses will be made by Rt. Rev. Joseph Rademacher, Father Oechtering, and others. The laying of the stone will be done with all solemnity which befits such an occasion. St. Peter's church will be, when completed, one of the very finest edifices in northern Indiana.

New Haven News.

New Haven, May 2, 1893.

Mrs. L. M. Rogers and daughter, Jessie, were at Fort Wayne Saturday.

Miss Anna Bloemker spent Sunday with her parents, on Wabash avenue.

Mrs. Henry Koehn returned home Thursday, after a week's visit with her daughter in Fort Wayne.

Messrs. Bart Dowling, Henry Dawkins and Jacob Butler were out of town Saturday on business.

Next Sunday night Rev Tinkham, pastor of the M. E. church, will preach upon the subject, "Sanctification."

It is now believed that Al. Crippen, the justice of the peace, will be our next postmaster. He is to succeed O. D. Rogers.

Next Sunday occurs the election of the M. P. Sabbath school officers. All members are requested to be present to assist in the election.

Rev. U. Stackhouse preached at the quarterly meeting last Sunday. The meeting was very small on account of the rainy weather.

Mr. John Belmyer has resigned his position as section boss on the Nickel Plate road. He will go to Michigan and Ed Lahea has been appointed boss.

Mrs. Harvey Bieber was in Fort Wayne Saturday where she met her husband on his return from Chicago. They then returned to the home of Mrs. Bieber's parents in New Haven.

Among those who were in Fort Wayne Saturday and saw (?) Cleveland were: Barney Tibbet, Frank Bueter, Al Crippen, August Schnilker, Amos Cour, Wm. Stocks and John Cullaghan.

The attendance at the New Haven musical was very small last Friday night on account of rainy weather. The next meeting will be held next Friday night and all the members are requested to be present.

RIPE FOR REVOLUTION!

Cubans Will Make a Bold Fight for Freedom.

Enthusiastic Reception Given to Marti, the Revolutionary Leader, at Key West, Fla.

Key West, Fla, May 3: Senor Jose Marti arrived on the Mascotte from Tampa this afternoon. By the time the steamer reached her dock nearly every residence and business house occupied by Cubans was gay with bunting and Cuban flags.

Representatives of sixty revolutionary lodges, carrying banners and flags, headed by a brass band, marched to the dock. Marti had landed and was awaiting the arrival of the procession. He was surrounded by thousands of enthusiasts, waving their hats and shouting "Viva Cuba Libra." When the procession of more than two thousand started he marched with the delegates who had received him, behind a band to the residence of Theodor Perez his host. The crowd trod over each other for a sight or a hand clasp from the man in whom they have put their trust for leader. Marti addressed the largest crowd of Cubans in Tampa last night that was ever gathered there.

In an interview Marti said that Cuba was ripe for rebellion. He says the revolutionary party is not to be suppressed, and has opened channels through which the war is to be conducted. It is to be a revolution entirely in keeping with the dictates of humanity and practical democracy. Marti says Spain is afraid, yet it desires the premature outbreak, in the hope of quelling it sooner. He does not pretend to prophesy the outcome of the movement. Much depends on Spain, but he evidently believes it will spread all over the island, having begun in the most unconquerable portion of the island. The customs house force still guards the beach, and the United States cutter is ready to sail at a moment's notice. News has been received that the insurgent forces number not less than 2000 well armed men, who have had previous experience, and are operating in the mountainous region, the recesses of which are well known to them.

AN ISLAND EDEN.

Its Adam and Eve Were the Parents of Cattle King Murphy.

"Catalina island, across the bay from Santa Barbara, has a story that attracts Eastern tourists to its shores," said W. W. Hurt to the Chicago Tribune writer.

"In the early days, when the Franciscans dominated the Pacific coast, this island played an important part in the history of that period. The old monastery, which stands on an eminence back of Santa Barbara, was a haven of rest for the Franciscan fathers and monks on their way from Mexico to the mission Dolores at San Francisco or the monastery at Monterey.

"The occupants of the island were constantly changing, and frequently it was deserted for weeks with the exception of the monks left in charge. It is a great curiosity to Eastern visitors to this day, especially the dark and noisome dungeons dug deep into the mountain rising hundreds of feet above the old Spanish dome.

"It is related that a Mexican ranchero on the coast of Lower California had an exceedingly beautiful daughter, who attracted much attention from the wealthy young men of the surrounding country, and, indeed, her rare beauty was a matter of comment even in court circles during her stay in the City of Mexico, where her education was finished. During that time an attache of the American legation fell deeply in love with Senorita Inez, and his attentions were so agreeable to the young senorita that she became greatly attached to him.

"This state of affairs was discovered by the priests, and her father was at once notified that his daughter was going beyond the bounds of the church and forming an alliance with a foreigner. Being under control of the Franciscans and fearing their power, the father consented to surrender the girl to the church. Without warning she was abducted from the City of Mexico and taken a long, weary ride over the mountains, and after weeks of uninterrupted journeying reached Santa Barbara, where she was kept under surveillance in the monastery. In some manner she managed to send word to her American lover, acquainting him with all that had happened and begging him to come to her rescue.

"The young man bravely undertook the hazardous journey and reached Santa Barbara in safety. Awaiting his opportunity he rescued the young senorita from the priests who, it is said, had almost driven her crazy with grief and fear and together the couple escaped to Catalina Island. The whole surrounding country was searched for miles, though no one thought of the little island ten miles at sea. The two young people lived for weeks on Catalina. Their only food being shellfish and what finny denizens they could catch. Finally they were taken off by some sailors from a whaler. They had come ashore for water. Later the couple reached San Francisco and joined General John C. Fremont's forces, where they were married by the chaplain of the camp. They had a son, and today he is known over the entire Pacific coast as 'Murphy, the Cattle King,' who is said to be the largest land-owner in the world."

His Father Not a Worker.

In one of the grammar schools in New York is a boy who has not a kind of admiration for his father. His father's word is law to him though he pays not the slightest attention to anything that his mother may say. The boy's young one was very much disgusted by the question put to him by his teacher when he first entered the grammar school. After giving his name to the teacher he was asked: "What is your father's occupation?"

"What's that?" was his reply, in a mystified tone.

"What is your father's business? What does he do?"

"Do? Why he don't do nuthin'. He just bosses, see?" the boy answered in a most aggravated way.

The boy's father is a foreman in a superintendent. Regarding ... and his son had seen him directing the men ... he should suppose that his father worked like ordinary mortals.

Are You Thinking

Of what you ought to take with you when you go to the world's fair? Your outfit will not be complete without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The change of water and diet, fatigue and irregular habits, during your trip are almost certain to produce diarrhoea and a dose or two of this remedy may save you serious sickness and perhaps much expense. Procure it before leaving home. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

ANOTHER "ANGELUS" STORY.

How Millet's Great Painting Was Treated Before It Became Famous.

M. Henner is the authority given for the following anecdote, in addition to the dozen stories already current regarding the "Angelus" of Jean Francois Millet. When that painting had acquired sufficient mark to cause it to be engraved, it was intrusted with scant ceremony to the engraver, who took it from its frame and wrapped it in an old newspaper and left it in the gateroom at the porter's lodge where he lived. On returning to his rooms he forgot the picture entirely, and it was not till two weeks had nearly elapsed that he bethought him of the commission. He then hunted through his room high and low and was somewhat disturbed to find no trace of poor Millet's production, for he knew that however insignificant it might be as a work of art the painter in all probability considered it, after painter's wont, a masterpiece. Latterly the porter did not think fit to throw it away, but called attention to the fact that an unwelcome canvas was knocking about his room, the latter then found himself repossessed of the forgotten loan.

Monday evening, at the home of Thomas Knight, No. 121 North Harrison street, a very pleasant surprise party was given in honor of his forty-second birthday. The evening was spent in dancing and games of all kinds. A number of those present were Messrs. and Mesdames T. Knight, D. Zimmerman, Ed. Voirel, Clem Chandler, Christian Cook, Isaac Prince, Wm. Sophorst, Paul Laible, Gilbert Chandler, John Sorg and G. H. Ohneck, Misses Gustava Knight, Emelie Zimmerman, Alice Kitce, Nellie Nickel, Nellie Donnigo, Louisa Rugust and Messrs. Perry Hadem, Al. Hazard, B. F. Miller, Charles Rugust and Thomas Teagarden.

The modern girl delights in getting as few words as possible to a page and in inventing some method that will cause the reader to look from the first to the last page for the continuation of a sentence. The real letter, answering questions asked, and full of bright, enjoyable news, is something almost unknown to the fin de siecle girl who writes notes of acceptance, makes engagements with her dressmaker and sends congratulatory or sympathetic messages on postal cards. The day of genuine epistles has gone by, and the scrawling hand, the pie-crusty sentences and the crazy-quilt cris cross and interlineation have taken their place. The sooner we get back to the old style the better, despite the fact that it may take a little more time and a trifle more thought.

A. L. Randall, the West Berry street bicycle dealer, today purchased the entire bicycle business of A. B. White, on Calhoun street. Mr. White will probably remain in the employ of Mr. Randall for a few weeks, when both concerns will be consolidated into one.

The Q. and O. club, at their meeting last night decided to move their quarters from the corner of Main and Calhoun street to five rooms over Schoch's tailor shop on Main street. Bids for furnishings will be opened at the next meeting.

The work of tearing down the old station house was begun this morning.

Henry W. Renewald, the mail agent, is again off duty, laid up with rheumatism.

Clerk Harrell, of the Wayne, has resigned and will take the management of a large hotel at Chicago.

A drunk at the police station played a mean trick on Henry Essig, of this city, by borrowing his name temporarily. Mr. Essig is a sober man.

A friend of the Rothgeb family states that Humane Agent Schlaudroff is mistaken about the child which died with measles and was allowed to lie twenty four hours without burial.

Mrs. Philip Titus, who was to entertain the Ladies' Aid society of the First U. B. church, has been called to the bedside of her mother, who is very low. The society will not meet until further notice is given.

The ladies' auxiliary of the B. of L. E. will give a social and entertainment this evening at their hall, 126 Calhoun street. The public is cordially invited. Twelve little girls will represent a "Star and Crescent," the emblem of the lodge.

At a meeting of the members of the English Lutheran church of the Redeemer, held last evening, William Spiegel and Rudy Renewald were appointed delegates to the Chicago convention, now in session. The congregation also decided to become members of the Missouri synod. Rev. Meyers has already gone to Chicago.

CHOLERA, DIPHTHERIA

And Other Contagious Diseases Can be Guarded Against by Using the Columbia Disinfectants and Deodorizers.

I have taken the general agency for the Columbia Disinfectants, and will have it introduced in every house in Fort Wayne. The Columbia Disinfectant Deodorizer and Air Purifier, having the endorsements of the leading physicians of the country, and its practicability being so plainly shown, I have undertaken to supply our citizens with a genuine preventative against all contagious diseases. The price is within the reach of all. It meets all requirements, doing away with all objections such as disagreeable odor, smoke and unhandy substance to handle. The ingredients in the Columbia are crystalized and sold in tablets of two sizes neatly framed and ready to be hung up in a room, thus combining ornament with its great usefulness. It will last for months, the ingredients slowly evaporating, impregnating the air steadily, and by this action rendering all disease germs harmless. It is recommended by leading physicians as the only pleasant and powerful disinfectant, deodorizer and air purifier ever introduced. A very effective remedy for lung diseases, and excellent preventatives for cholera, diphtheria and other contagious diseases.

Read what our health officer has to say about it:

"FT. WAYNE, Apr. 30, '93.

"I have used your Columbia Disinfectant and Air Purifier and find it an excellent disinfectant and strong air purifier. I hereby certify that it is an excellent preventative against spreading of contagious diseases.

J. E. MILLER, M. D."

Further particulars will be gladly furnished by calling at my office, 12 East Berry Street.

Yours for good health.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

A Hoosier Kills His Wife, Child and Himself.

FRANKTON, Ind., May 3.—Theopolus Pendleton, of Wolf Lake, came home in an intoxicated state yesterday and in a quarrel with his wife, struck her on the head, killing her instantly. The brute then seized his infant child of six months and beat out its brains against the stove. He then capped the climax by cutting his throat.
